Taos is now one of the major tourist attractions in New Mexico and the southwest. With its world-class skiing and dining, and the 400 year old San Francisco de Asisi Church, located just to the south of the town in Rancho de Taos, it is a world tourist destination.

One-of-a-kind Taos real estate, near Taos Pueblo Land & the Sacred Buffalo Pasture with Taos Mountain looming in the background.

Beyond the city limits remains a high desert landscape as varied, remarkable and soul enhancing as any on the planet. The Carson National Forest alone offers 1.5 million acres of golden aspen and ponderosa pine, deep river gorges and monolithic mountain peaks.

Taos has 2,067 households out of which 27.5% had children under the age of 18 living with them, 34.7% were married couples living together, 16.2% had a female householder with no husband present, and 44.0% were non-families. 37.3% of all households were made up of individuals and 12.1% had someone living alone who was 65 years of age or older. The average household size was 2.18 and the average family size was 2.87.

Trek on a mountain trail on skis, horseback Taos Canyon, bike or on your own two feet. Raft the wild Rio Grande. Four seasons and five life zones. Recreational options are unlimited. Native American, Spanish, and Anglo cultures are proudly preserved through art and architecture, music and dance. Food and festivals for all to enjoy throughout the year.
