

Real Estate Newsflash February 2007

Contributed by Real Estate
Monday, 09 August 2004
Last Updated Tuesday, 03 April 2007

The town of Taos New Mexico is an undiscovered American treasure. This is a destination filled with 1100 years of history, culture, ancient society, art, magic and the true spirit of the southwest. Walk around town, it's very easy going.

Today the historic Plaza is the center of a wonderful cluster of shops, galleries and adobe architecture that create the perfect place to stroll. Watch the magic happen as mountains, mesas and the tranquility of the desert southwest captivate your group.

We are excited to hear from you. You are welcome to call us anytime or check back to our site soon and see the most current information and news that's happening here at the Taos Convention Center. Rio Grande and Bataan Hall
Rio Grande Hall is the largest, most versatile meeting room in the area. With 7,536 square-feet of space, meetings and banquets for up to 700 attendees can be handled with ease in the open hall. Rio Grande Hall can also be divided into four breakout rooms, providing for several concurrent sessions. The Board Room is also accessible for your smaller meetings. The common areas and Rio Grande Courtyard are perfect for registration, continental breakfast and informal lunches. Bataan Hall, with its raised ceilings and built in stage area, provides for meetings and banquets of up to 600 attendees and 6,052 square-feet of exhibit space. The room's 560 square foot stage can be used for presentations, lectures, concerts and more. Bataan and Rio Grande are connected by hallways, which provide reception and service areas.

Don Fernando Hall
Don Fernando Hall faces Rio Grande and Bataan Hall across Civic Plaza Drive. The hall has 4,752 square feet of exhibition space and room for 350 people. A spacious open air patio can be used creatively. Coronado Hall and Don Fernando Hall are connected by a hallway, providing access to all of Coronado Halls breakout facilities.
Coronado Hall
Coronado Hall is next to Don Fernando Hall and also faces Rio Grande and Bataan Hall across Civic Plaza Drive. Here is housed four functional breakout rooms: El Alcalde, Los Angelitos, El Taoseño, and Chambers, which can accommodate 45-75 people each. In addition, two patios provide more than 5,400 square feet of open air space for banquets.